

550 miles. The average rate was 14 knots, though during the greater part of the time the engines were little more than half speed; the paddles averaged 10, and the screw 38 revolutions. The ship attained 14 half-knots without any exertion on the part of the engines. Weather equally. Very heavy ground-squalls experienced. The correspondent of the London Times on board says it is more than probable the ship will not leave England during winter.

The Government was understood to have given Napier, of Clyde, orders for the construction of an iron steam ram.

Rumors were current of a split in the English Cabinet on the Chinese question.

Robert Stephenson, the engineer, was in a dying state.

The builders' strike has not yet terminated.

FRANCE.

The Emperor has been unwell for a week, and is not serious.

Peace had been signed for the fortification of port Gandelle, and some small islands opposite Jersey.

The immense floating battery being built at Bordeaux is to have bulwarks three feet in thickness.

The Paris correspondent of the Post says the Imperial Government are contemplating what measures to take to counteract the protests of the French Bishops. They had received orders from Rome to preach for the restoration of the Italian Dukes. Napoleon is getting disgusted with the prostration of Austria, and for the moment French policy inclines to a more intimate understanding with England.

The United States had received a warning for an objectionable article on Cooch China.

Commercial affairs remain unsatisfactory. Flour and wheat declined. The new vintage is inferior to last year in quantity and quality.

On account of the assassination of Count Onville, the French Consul at Parma, received orders to quit his post, unless prompt justice was done. The Piedmontese Gazette brands the crime as execrable, and declares it had produced a feeling of horror through the country.

It states all grievances of the people, shows how the Pope has abdicated his authority, explains the motives which have led to the decree of annexation to Piedmont, and urges the great powers to sanction that arrangement.

The Sardinian Minister was on the eve of quitting Rome, and it was expected that before doing so he would place the Sardinian subject under the protection of the French Embassy.

The government of Romagna had issued a decree forbidding the exportation of saltpetre and sulphur to the Pontifical territory.

COST OF RUNNING THE GREAT EASTERN.

It is calculated that the working cost of this ship, while under steam, will cost £800 per diem. Assuming that she runs to Portland in seven days, the cost will, therefore be £5,600; miscellaneous charges, £9,000.—The Cunard steamers are charged to cost £1 per mile, and the Great Eastern will average £2 per mile. The Great Eastern will not be liable to dock dues or dues of pilotage at Holyhead or Portland. Had she started from Liverpool the dock dues would be about £1,500.

It is stated that the Masonic fraternity in the United States contemplate the raising of a fund of $400,000, a portion of which is to be devoted to the building of a Masonic Temple at the seat of the Federal Government, and the revenue to be derived from it to be applied to the purpose of establishing a house for the support and education of the orphan children of deceased Masons.

DROLL PROCEEDINGS.—On Saturday last Jackson Morton was brought before the Magistrate of Gough, on a singular charge. The prisoner, who had been on a "bender" for several days, went into the Catholic Chapel on Saturday morning, ascending the altar, and had just commenced a very eloquent discourse on the "abominations of Popery," when he was expelled and rather roughly handled by the youngsters attending the Separate School. He was then carried down to the Police-office, and from thence conveyed to the jail, having been sentenced to 14 days' hard labor.

A Reprint.—We do not refer to a reprint from capital punishment. There is a slow torture from which a respite is equally desirable. We refer to dyspepsia—a word in which all the horrors of indigestion are summed up. To the sufferers by this painful and harassing disease, we can hold out not only bright hope, but the certainty of immediate relief and permanent cure. There is a tonic, cordial, a pleasant principal in Dr. Houlard's German Bitters, which inevitably arrests and changes the morbid action of the stomach and the various organs, removes the disease, and restores to health. Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. See advertisements.

For the New Era.
My Beau Yohn.

Six weeks ago, I had a beau.
"Folks called him "Pious Yohn,"
And said he was a fine lad,
As 'twere the sun shone on.

His eyes were bright as stars at night,
And such delicious curls
Adorned his head! and then how white
His teeth, those matchless pearls!

Mat thought him such a "nice young man!"
"He always seemed so kind,"
And said to help her find her "specie,"
(For ma is growing blind.)

With Pa he read, and talked about
"The affairs of state and nation;
How all things were turned inside out,
Since the late inauguration.

Yet all the time he looked askance,
"To see what I was doing,
And tried to say, with meaning glance,
"Tis you I've come a wooing."

He talked to them of faith and creed,
You'd thought him quite a preacher,
Thinks I, "his very fine indeed,
If you practice what you preach, sir."

Papa and Ma, both, thought he'd make
A preacher by-and-by;
"Yes, yes," I thought, "no mistake,
A preacher, in my eye!"

I look a walk the other night,
Just for my health, you know;
The sky was clear, the moon shone bright,
As it ever shone below.

Now who d'ye think I chanced to meet?
You'll say "some highway rover;"
But, no, (oh, was it not complete!)
"Twas "pious Yohn" my lover.

It was so nice; he did not see
Ma pass him on the corner;
He was engaged so busily,
With "brotherhood of his order."

I only stopped to take my breath,
My heart so fast was beating;
But long enough to hear the text,
On which dear Yohn was treating.

"Was it not grand?" I heard him say,
"That prime Champagne and Sherry,
Enough to drive dull care away,
And make the saddest merry!"

"Come on my jolly boys, come on!
In spite of wind or weather
Come let us take another horn!
And all get drunk together."

"I'm not afraid that the old man
Will ever be the wiser;
And as for my own "darling Tan,"
"Twould only come surprise her."

He little thought, his "darling Tan"
Knew all that he was doing,
But believe me, he found it out,
When next he came a "wooing."

PHOTOGRAPHY,
WRITING BY SOUND!!

PHOTOGRAPHY was invented by ISAAC PITMAN, of Bath, England, in the year 1837. It is the most simple, most natural, most rapid, and most easily-learned system of Writing which has ever been, or ever can be invented.

During the past fifteen years, hundreds of thousands of persons, in England and America, in both public and private life, have learned to write Photography, and thousands of business letters annually pass through the hands of those who are conversant with the system.

Nor is its great popularity to be wondered at. The present system of writing is exceedingly cumbersome, and totally unworthy these days of progress and invention. Photography is equally as legible, can be learned in one-twentieth the time, and can be written six times as fast! In other words, the labor of six days can be performed in one—one man can do the work of six! So simple is the system, too, that a person may learn to write it slowly, in a couple of hours. An hour's daily practice for a couple of weeks will enable a person to write Photography with ease and rapidity, and with some degree of accuracy.

The same amount of practice continued for six months will enable a person to take reports of speeches, lectures, sermons, or conversation, and to read them with accuracy. Dr. J. W. Stone, of Boston, says: "I deduce Photography on invaluable point to education, and one which, when properly used, would not be paried with any school for thousands of dollars."

The late Hon. THOMAS H. REXTON, upon being presented with a valuable report of one of his masterly speeches, taken by a little boy only twelve years of age, said: "Had this art been known 40 years ago it would have saved me 20 years hard labor." The learned Senator spoke but a portion of the truth. What long hours require years to accomplish, Photography will perform in one.

Physicians, Lawyers, Clergymen, School Teachers, Merchants, School Boys and Girls.

A knowledge of Photography is of vast utility. In fact there is no profession or calling in which it is not useful, and no young man's education can be considered complete without it.

During the past nine months hundreds of persons in Canada, at every point in life, have learned the system, and many of whom the subscriber has received neatly-written photographic letters, expressing their delight with the attainment, and the extraordinary ease with which they have acquired it.

For the purpose of aiding in the dissemination of so important a reform in his own country, the subscriber is now prepared to supply all who apply.

Manual of Photography and the Phonographic Copy Book,

The instruction given by the Manual is as plain as A. B. C., and ten times easier to understand.
